

International School on INtegrated Environmental Studies in the Arctic (INES)

with respect to climate changes

Third edition: Climate and ocean processes in shaping the future environment.

Hybrid event

26 - 30 September 2022

Certificate of Attendance

Sopot, October 7, 2022

I hereby certify that

Manurov Rustam

Institute of Oceanology PAN

attended in person in the “International School on INtegrated Environmental Studies in the Arctic (INES) with respect to climate changes”, third edition, 2022: Climate and ocean processes in shaping the future environment.

I also certify that the school consisted of both, theoretical and practical classes and participation in a training-research cruise on board r/v Oceania. Detailed Programme on the school webpage: <https://oceanofchanges.com/ines2022/>.

This initiative is a joint effort of the Institute of Oceanology Polish Academy of Sciences, University of Milano-Bicocca, Alfred Wegener Institute, University of Florence, Norwegian Institute for Air Research and Norwegian Polar Institute.

Assoc. Prof. Tymon Zieliński

Institute of Oceanology Polish Academy of Sciences
Climate and Ocean Research and Education Laboratory

